The College of Transport and Logistics is an independent higher education institution which is announcing vacancies for the 2026/27 academic year in:

UNDERGRADUATE PROFESSIONAL HIGHER EDUCATION STUDY PROGRAMME (1ST CYCLE), INTERNATIONAL LOGISTICS MANAGEMENT (VS)

Duration of study

- The study lasts three (3) years and comprises 180 ECTS credits.

Professional title

- The graduate gains the professional title Graduate Logistics Organiser (VS).
Abbreviation: dipl. org. log. (VS).

Location and methods of study delivery

- Part-time study is carried out at the location in Ljubljana. Blended study or distance learning is carried out at the location and remotely in a virtual learning environment.

Conditions for enrolment in the 1st year

The undergraduate professional study programme International Logistics Management can be entered by those who have passed the final exam in any four-year secondary school programme (before 01.06.1995), a vocational matura, or a general matura.

The conditions for enrolment are also met by those who have completed equivalent education abroad.

If a decision to limit enrolment is adopted, candidates will be selected according to:

- general success in the final exam, vocational matura or general matura 60% of points,
- general success in the 3rd and 4th years 40% of points.

Continuation of study according to transfer criteria

A transfer between study programmes is the cessation of education in the first study programme and the continuation of study in the second study programme. Transfers are possible between study programmes of the same cycle and between higher vocational study programmes and first-cycle study programmes.

Transfers are possible between study programmes:

1. which at the end of the study ensure the acquisition of comparable competencies and
2. between which at least half of the ECTS obligations from the first study programme, relating to the mandatory subjects of the second study programme, can be recognised according to recognition criteria.

Conditions for enrolment in the 2nd year

Graduates of higher vocational programmes in the logistics, transport, economic, business, or other related fields, adopted after 1994, may enrol directly in the second year. They must pass two (2) differential exams from the 1st year in the subjects Basics of Logistics and Sustainable Mobility (6 ECTS) and Legal Frameworks for Business in International Logistics (5 ECTS), totaling 11 ECTS. Graduates of other (unrelated) higher vocational programmes adopted after 1994 must pass three (3) differential exams from the 1st year in the subjects Basics of Logistics and Sustainable Mobility (6 ECTS), Legal Frameworks for Business in International Logistics (5 ECTS), and Business Economics (5 ECTS), totaling 16 ECTS. Lectures and differential exams will be organised by NOA.

Candidates enrolling on the basis of recognised exams passed in other professional higher education study programmes or first-cycle programmes may enrol directly in the second year if they have recognised 1st-year exams in the amount of 40 ECTS for full-time and 30 ECTS for part-time study.

The conditions for enrolment are also met by anyone who has completed equivalent education abroad.

In the event of a limit on enrolment, candidates for enrolment according to transfer criteria will be selected on the basis of the average grade of the previous study and the number of available places.

Conditions for enrolment in the 3rd year

Graduates of programmes adopted before 01.01.1994 may enrol directly in the third year. Graduates of the logistics, transport, economic, business, or other related fields must pass two (2) differential exams from the 1st year in the subjects Basics of Logistics and Sustainable Mobility (6 ECTS) and Legal Frameworks for Business in International Logistics (5 ECTS), totaling 11 ECTS. Graduates of other (unrelated) higher vocational programmes adopted before 1994 must pass three (3) differential exams from the 1st year in the subjects Basics of Logistics and Sustainable Mobility (6 ECTS), Legal Frameworks for Business in International Logistics (5 ECTS), and Business Economics (5 ECTS), totaling 16 ECTS. Lectures and differential exams will be organised by NOA. Candidates enrolling on the basis of recognised exams passed in other professional higher education study programmes or first-cycle programmes may enrol directly in the third year if they have recognised 2nd-year exams in the amount of 40 ECTS and at least 52 ECTS for the 1st year for full-time study, and 30 ECTS for the 2nd year and 45 ECTS for the 1st year for part-time study.

The condition for transfer to the third year after finishing a related professional higher education programme (field of business administrative sciences), adopted before 11.06.2004, is a diploma of the professional higher education study programme.

Candidates are partially recognised for exams and other completed study obligations from the first, second, and third years of the programme they are transferring to, in an amount up to 90 ECTS. To complete the study in the new programme, they must pass exams and other prescribed study obligations. Transfers between higher education study programmes are handled according to valid criteria on the basis of individual applications.

The conditions for enrolment are also met by anyone who has completed equivalent education abroad. Candidates applying for enrolment with education obtained abroad should also submit an application for recognition of education for the purpose of continuing education along with required evidence together with the application for enrolment.

In the event of a limit on enrolment, candidates for enrolment according to transfer criteria will be selected on the basis of the average grade of the previous study and the number of available places.

MASTER'S STUDY PROGRAMME (2ND CYCLE), SUSTAINABLE MOBILITY AND LOGISTICS

Duration of study

- The study lasts two (2) years and comprises 120 ECTS credits.

Professional title

- The graduate gains the professional title Master of Sustainable Mobility and Logistics. Abbreviation: Mag. tr. mob. in log.

Location and methods of study delivery

Part-time study is carried out in the afternoon at the location in Ljubljana. Blended study or distance learning is carried out at the location and remotely in a virtual learning environment.

Conditions for enrolment in the 1st year

Anyone who has completed a study programme in the relevant professional fields - business and administrative sciences, law (04), economics (0311), information and communication technologies (06), security (103), transport services (1088), or any study programmes comparable to those listed may enrol in the 1st year of the master's study programme Sustainable Mobility and Logistics:

1. A first-cycle higher education study programme (professional or university) of at least 180 ECTS credits,
2. A professional higher education study programme adopted before 11.06.2004 (before the introduction of the Bologna system),
3. A university study programme or a specialist study programme after completing professional higher education, adopted before 11.06.2004 (before the introduction of the Bologna system).

Anyone who has completed a study programme under points 1, 2, and 3 of the previous paragraph from other professional fields than those specified in the first paragraph may also enrol in the master's study programme Sustainable Mobility and Logistics. The student performs additional study obligations by taking the subjects Basics of Logistics and Sustainable Mobility (6 ECTS) and Business Economics (5 ECTS). Depending on the scope of recognised obligations from the previous study programme obtained in the Republic of Slovenia or abroad, the candidate may enrol in the same or a higher year of the study programme Sustainable Mobility and Logistics if they meet the transfer conditions set by the accredited study programme with the recognised obligations.

Limit on enrolment

In the event of a limit on enrolment, candidates will be selected according to the average grade of undergraduate or first-cycle study. In the event of a limit on enrolment for transfers between programmes, candidates will be selected according to the achieved average grade. In accordance with Article 69a of the Higher Education Act, students with special needs and students with special status are entitled to more favourable treatment in the selection procedure in the event of a limit on enrolment.

Continuation of study according to transfer criteria

A student may enrol in a higher year of a study programme at NOA if they have been recognised at least as many credit points in the recognition process due to transfer as are a condition for enrolment in a higher year of the NOA study programme.

Transfers are possible between study programmes:

1. which at the end of the study ensure the acquisition of comparable competencies or learning outcomes,
2. between which at least half of the obligations according to the European Credit Transfer System (hereinafter: ECTS) from the first study programme, relating to mandatory subjects at NOA, can be recognised according to the criteria for recognition of knowledge and skills acquired before enrolment in the programme.

The following may be recognised upon transfer:

1. comparable study obligations that the student completed in the first study programme,
2. 2. informally acquired comparable knowledge.

Previously acquired knowledge is demonstrated by the student with appropriate documents, and recognition is carried out in accordance with NOA Regulations on Recognition of Knowledge and Skills. A student may enrol in a higher year of a study programme at NOA if they have been recognised at least as many credit points in the recognition process due to transfer as are a condition for enrolment in a higher year of the NOA study programme.

The following transfers are possible into the master's study programme Sustainable Mobility and Logistics:

- from second-cycle study programmes,
- for graduates of so-called non-Bologna study programmes, whose transfers are regulated in the transitional provision of Article 16 of the Higher Education Act.

Conditions for enrolment in the 2nd year

The following may enrol directly in the 2nd year of the master's study programme Sustainable Mobility and Logistics:

- anyone who has completed a study programme for obtaining a university education or specialization, adopted before 11.06.2004, in the relevant professional fields - business and administrative sciences, law (04), economics (0311), information and communication technologies (06), security (103), transport services (1088), or any study programmes comparable to those listed,
- anyone who has completed a study programme for obtaining a university education or specialization, adopted before 11.06.2004, from other study fields.

The competent body of NOA prescribes differential exams to the candidate from the subjects Sustainable Logistics Systems (8 ECTS) and Strategic Management of Logistics and Transport Processes (8 ECTS). Applications for transfers between programmes of scientific master's studies and second-cycle master's studies are considered individually by the competent body of NOA. The student must submit appropriate proof of education.

In the event of a limit on enrolment, candidates for enrolment according to transfer criteria will be selected on the basis of the average grade of the previous study and the number of available places.

The conditions for enrolment are also met by anyone who has completed equivalent education abroad. Candidates applying for enrolment with education obtained abroad should also submit an application for recognition of education for the purpose of continuing education along with required evidence together with the application for enrolment.

In the event of a limit on enrolment, candidates for enrolment according to transfer criteria will be selected on the basis of the average grade of the previous study and the number of available places.

Application deadlines

1. application deadline: from 18.2.2026 to 12.7.2026,
2. application deadline: from 13.7.2026 to 30.9.2026 or until vacancies are filled.

Candidates who have completed education abroad must submit attachments to the application no later than the end of each application deadline.

Application method

Candidates apply by electronic application through the eVŠ web portal:

<https://portal.evs.gov.si/prijava/>

A candidate can apply:

- with a qualified digital certificate. An application is considered timely if it was completed and electronically signed and submitted with a qualified digital certificate in eVŠ by the deadline set by the call,

- without a qualified digital certificate (with a username and password via the SI-PASS system). An application is considered timely if it was completed and electronically signed and submitted in eVŠ by the deadline set by the call,
- with an account of the authentication and authorisation infrastructure (hereinafter: AAI-account). An application is considered timely if it was completed with an AAI-account and sent in eVŠ by the deadline set by the call.

Candidates who already have a recognition decision or nostrification follow the instructions for providing evidence of meeting the enrolment conditions and submit the decision together with all evidence. For candidates who do not yet have a decision on the recognition of foreign education, the completed electronic application form for study in eVŠ on the web portal counts as an application for recognition of foreign education. Candidates who submit an incomplete application will be individually invited to provide additions by e-mail.

Until 30.10.2025, enrolment is only possible for justified reasons if the competent body of NOA so decides at the candidate's request. Regardless of the justified reason, the candidate must submit the application for enrolment by 30.9.2025.

On the basis of the sent application for enrolment, candidates receive an invitation to enrol. Evidence of meeting the enrolment conditions that cannot be obtained from official records is attached by candidates upon enrolment (recommended by post or in person). Photocopies of certificates certified by a notary or administrative unit count as evidence. At the limit of enrolment, candidates, at the call of the college, send evidence of meeting the enrolment conditions (certificates of the last two years of secondary school or a certificate of passed exams of higher education study, from which the average grade of exams is visible).

Enrolment of foreigners

Candidates applying for enrolment with education obtained abroad submit an electronic application via the eVŠ web portal: <http://portal.evs.gov.si/prijava>, part of which is also the application for recognition of education. They attach certified copies of the final certificate, certificates of the last two years of secondary school, translations of certificates where necessary, and decisions on the recognition of foreign education to the application. More information regarding recognition for a specific study can be found on the website www.mynoa.com and e-mail address hello@mynoa.com.

Tuition fee

NOA charges a tuition fee for part-time study and for blended or distance learning. Payment is possible in one or more instalments. The price list is published on the NOA website.
